Reportable Matters do not generally include personal work-related grievances. Personal work-related grievances are those that relate to the Discloser's current or former employment and have, or tend to have, implications for the Discloser personally, but do not have any other significant implications for the Company (or any other entity) or do not relate to conduct or alleged conduct, about a Reportable Matter. Personnel can discuss personal work-related grievances with the Company Secretary. ## 6.2 Making a Report

6.2.1 Who to report to?

The Company encourages reports of Reportable Matters to be made to any of the following recipients (as appropriate in the circumstances) (Recipients):

- a. the person designated as Whistleblower Protection Officer;
- b. the relevant supervisor or a senior manager in the Company who makes, or participates in making, decisions that affect the whole, or a substantial part of, the business of the Company, or who has the capacity to significantly affect the Company's financial standing;
- c. any member of the Board; or
- d. the Company Secretary.

The role of Recipients is to receive disclosures about matters that that qualify for protection for protection under the Corporations Act or Taxation Act. Disclosures need to be made to an 'eligible recipient' in order for an 'eligible whistleblower' to qualify for protection as a whistleblower under the Corporations Act (or the Taxation Administration Act, where relevant).

The contact details of the Recipients can be found on the Company's intranet. Reports can be made by email, telephone, in person, via post.

The Company recognises that there may be issues of sensitivity whereby a Discloser does not feel comfortable to make a report to an internal recipient. In such cases, the Discloser may feel more comfortable making an anonymous disclosure to an external recipient.

Nothing in this Whistleblower Policy (including anonymous reporting) should be taken in any way as restricting someone from reporting any matter or providing any information to a regulator (such as ASIC, the APRA, Commissioner), the Company's auditor or a member of the audit team, a lawyer (to obtain advice or representation) or any other person in accordance with any relevant law, regulation, or other requirement. Information in relation to whistleblowing is available from such regulators and can generally be downloaded on their website.

6.2.2 Whistleblower Protection Officer

The Company's Whistleblower Protection Officer and contact details are listed below:

Kate Stoney Company Secretary	Phone: 0408 909 588 Email: kates@northamresources.com

Reports may also be hand delivered or posted to 6 Kearns Crescent Ardross WA 6153 (marked to the attention of the Whistleblower Protection Officer).

6.2.3 Anonymous Reports

The Company also appreciates that speaking up can be difficult. Reports can also be made anonymously or using a pseudonym and still be protected. A Discloser can refuse to answer questions that could reveal their identity. While reports can be made anonymously, it may affect the ability to investigate the matter properly and to communicate with the Discloser about the report. Anonymous Disclosers should therefore attempt to maintain two-way communication as far as possible.

Anonymous reports can be made by sending an anonymous email using a temporary or disposable email address available from the internet.

6.2.4 Information to include in the Report

As much information should be included in the report as possible including details of the Reportable Matter, people involved, dates, locations and whether more evidence may exist.

Disclosers will be expected to have reasonable grounds to believe the information being disclosed is true (which will be based on the objective reasonableness of the reasons for the Discloser's suspicions), but the Discloser will not be penalised and may still qualify for protection if the information turns out to be incorrect should they have such reasonable grounds. However, any deliberate false reporting will not qualify for protection under this Whistleblower Policy and will be treated as a serious matter and may be subject to disciplinary action.

6.2.5 Questions

Personnel who are unsure about how this Whistleblower Policy works, what is covered by the Whistleblower Policy or how a disclosure may be handled are encouraged to speak with the Whistleblower Protection Officer in the first instance.

6.3 Investigating a Report

6.3.1 Who will investigate?

An appropriate investigator (or investigators) may be appointed to investigate any reports made under this Whistleblower Policy. An investigator will be independent of the Discloser and individuals who are the subject of the disclosure and the department or business unit involved.

Possible investigators include:

- a. the Whistleblower Protection Officer;
- b. a relevant supervisor, senior manager or officer in the Company who makes, or participates in making, decisions that affect the whole, or a substantial part of, the business of the Company, or who has the capacity to significantly affect the Company's financial standing;
- c. any member of the Board;
- d. the Company Secretary; or
- e. an independent adviser.

Where a Reportable Matter relates to the Chief Executive Officer, Whistleblower Protection Officer or a director of the Company, the matter will be referred directly to the Chairperson of the Board.

6.3.2 How will the investigation be conducted?

Any matters reported under this Whistleblower Policy will be considered and a determination will be made as to whether the disclosure falls within the scope of this Whistleblower Policy. If so, the matter will be investigated as soon as practicable after the matter has been reported. The investigation process will be conducted in a thorough, fair, objective, and independent manner (while preserving confidentiality) and will depend on the precise nature of the conduct being investigated. Due care and appropriate speed will be taken and reported information will be verified and relevant personnel interviewed as part of the investigative process. The Company may seek independent advice, as necessary.

The Discloser may be asked for further information, will be given regular and appropriate updates in the circumstances (if the discloser can be contacted) and will be advised of any outcomes from the investigation (subject to considerations of privacy and confidentiality). The frequency and timeframe for providing updates may vary depending on the nature of the disclosure. Any updates or outcomes will be advised by reasonable means.

Anonymous reports will be investigated based on the information provided and may be limited if the Discloser has refused or omitted to provide contact details.

At the end of the investigation, the relevant investigating officer will report their findings (while preserving confidentiality) to the Chairperson of the Board or the appropriate person who will determine the appropriate response. This may include rectifying any unacceptable conduct and taking any action required to prevent future occurrences of the same or similar conduct as well as disciplinary action if necessary. The identity of the Discloser will be redacted from any written investigation reports unless they have consented to disclosure of their identity.

At the end of the investigation, the outcome of the investigation will be communicated to the Discloser, where it is appropriate to do so. There may be circumstances where it may not be appropriate to provide details of the outcome to the Discloser, the investigating officer will let you know if this is the case. The method for documenting and reporting findings will depend on the nature of the disclosure.

The Discloser may lodge a complaint with a regulator if they are not happy with an outcome of the investigation or if they consider that this Whistleblower Policy has not been adhered to adequately.

6.4 Support and Protections

6.4.1 Identity protection (Confidentiality) for Disclosers

The identity of and information likely to lead to the identification of a Discloser will be kept confidential, however a disclosure can be made:

- a. if the Discloser consents;
- b. to ASIC, APRA, the Commissioner, or a member of the AFP;
- c. to a lawyer for the purpose of obtaining legal advice or representation; or
- d. if the disclosure is allowed or required by law.

During the course of an investigation, the Company will take reasonable steps to reduce the risk of disclosing information that could identify the Discloser (including redacting all personal information or references to the Discloser, restricting the number of people involved in handling and investigating the disclosure and ensuring secure and confidential email communication in relation to the investigation). Note however, that in practice, people may be able to guess the Discloser's identity if the Discloser has mentioned their intention to make a disclosure; the Discloser is one of a very small number of people with access to the information; or the disclosure relates to information that a Discloser has previously been told privately and in confidence.

Unauthorised disclosure of:

- a. the identity of a Discloser who has made a report of a Reportable Matter; or
- b. information from which the identity of the Discloser could be inferred, may be an offence under Australian law, will be regarded as a disciplinary matter and will be dealt with in accordance with the Company's disciplinary procedures.

A Discloser may lodge a complaint about a breach of confidentiality with the Company or a regulator.

6.4.2 Protection from Detrimental Disclosures

A Discloser who makes a report under this Whistleblower Policy will not suffer detriment (either actual or threatened). Examples of actual or threatened detriment include:

- a. harassment, intimidation, victimisation, bias or discrimination;
- b. dismissal of an employee or varying an employee's position or duties;
- c. causing physical or psychological harm or injury; or
- d. damage to a person's property, reputation, business or financial position or any other damage.

Certain actions will not constitute detrimental conduct such as:

- a. administrative action that is reasonable for the purpose of protecting a Discloser from detriment (e.g. moving a Discloser who has made a disclosure about their immediate work area to another area to prevent them from detriment); and
- b. managing a Discloser's unsatisfactory work performance, if the action is in line with the Company's performance management framework.

The Company will take all steps to protect Disclosers from any form of detrimental treatment (including ensuring that a risk assessment is carried out to determine the risk of detriment, providing strategies to help a Discloser minimise and manage stress, time or performance impacts resulting from the disclosure or its investigation, and ensuring that management are aware of their responsibilities to maintain the confidentiality of a disclosure, address the risks of isolation or harassment, manage conflicts, and ensure fairness when managing the performance of, or taking other management action relating to, a Discloser).

Anyone who retaliates against someone who has reported a possible violation may be subject to discipline by the Company or penalties under the Corporations Act, Taxation Act, or other Australian law.

Anyone who is subjected to detriment as a result of making a report under this Whistleblower Policy should report it in accordance with clause 6.2.

A Discloser (or any other employee or person) can seek compensation or other remedies through the courts if:

- a. they suffer loss, damage, or injury because of a disclosure; and
- b. the Company failed to prevent a person from causing the detriment.

A Discloser may seek independent legal advice or contact a regulatory body if they believe they have suffered detriment.

6.4.3 Other Protections available to Disclosures

Additional protections will be offered by the Company depending on the Reportable Matter and the people involved. Protections may include but are not limited to:

- a. monitoring and managing behaviour of other employees;
- b. offering support services (including counselling or other professional or legal services);
- c. implementing strategies to help minimise and manage stress; time or performance impacts; or other challenges resulting from the disclosure or the investigation; or
- d. offering a leave of absence or flexible workplace arrangements during the course of an investigation.

In addition, current and former employees may also request additional support from the Company if required.

Whilst the Company will endeavour to support all Disclosers, it will not be able to provide the same sort of practical support to each Discloser. Therefore, the processes in this Whistleblower Policy will be adapted and applied to the extent reasonably possible.

6.4.4 Fair Treatment of those Mentioned in a Disclosure

The Company will ensure fair treatment of officers and employees of the Company who are mentioned in any disclosure, and to whom any disclosures relate. The disclosure will be handled confidentially (when it is practical and appropriate in the circumstances) and will be assessed and may be subject to investigation. The objective of an investigation is to determine whether there is enough evidence to substantiate or refute the matters reported.

If an investigation is required, it will be conducted in an objective, fair and independent manner. Such employees will be advised of the subject matter of the disclosure at the appropriate time and as required by law and will be advised of the outcome of the investigation. An employee who is the subject of a disclosure may contact the Company's support services.

6.4.5 Files and Records

The Company will ensure that any records relating to any reports made under this Whistleblower Policy are stored securely and only accessed by authorised personnel directly involved in managing and investigating the report.

All those involved in handling and investigating reports will be reminded about confidentiality requirements including that an unauthorised disclosure of a Discloser's identity may be a criminal offence.

6.4.6 Special Legal Protections under the Corporations Act and Taxation Act

Whilst this Whistleblower Policy deals with internal disclosures of information, additional legal protections are available for certain Disclosers under the Corporations Act and the Taxation Act provided the disclosure is about a "disclosable matter" or "tax affair" as defined under such legislation and certain conditions are met. These are summarised in Annexures 1 and 2, respectively. Disclosures that are not about "disclosable matters" or "tax affairs" will not qualify for protection under the Corporations Act or Taxation Act. For more information, see the information available on the ASIC website and the ATO website.

7. Monitoring and Reviewing

Material incidences reported under this Whistleblower Policy will be reported to the Board or a committee of the Board.

The Board, in conjunction with the Whistleblower Protection Officer, will monitor the content, effectiveness and implementation of this Whistleblower Policy on a regular basis. There may also be independent reviews taken from time to time. Any findings, updates or improvements identified will be addressed as soon as possible and circulated to all officers and employees and made available on the Company's website and intranet.

Officers and employees are invited to comment on this Whistleblower Policy and suggest ways in which it might be improved. Comments, suggestions, and queries should be addressed to the Board.

Annexure 1: Summary of Protections under the Corporations Act

The Corporations Act sets out disclosures that are protected under the Corporations Act if certain conditions are met as well as the protections available to protected disclosures. A summary of such protections (as at the date of this Policy) is set out below but you should refer to the Corporations Act itself for a full understanding of the conditions and protections available and the relevant definitions. ASIC's website should also be consulted for up-to-date information.

1. Protected Disclosures

Disclosures will be protected if:

- a. the discloser is an Eligible Whistleblower, being an individual who is, or has been, any of the following:

    - E. anyone prescribed under the Corporations Act regulations as being an eligible recipient; or

- c. the disclosure relates to a Disclosable Matter in that the discloser has reasonable grounds to suspect that the information concerns misconduct, or an improper state of affairs or circumstances in relation to the Company or a related body corporate of the Company. This includes any suspicion that the Company or its body corporate, or an officer or employee of the Company or its body corporate has engaged in conduct that:
  - i. constitutes an offence against, or a contravention of, a provision of the Corporations Act, the Australian Securities Investments Commission Act 2001, the Banking Act 1959, the Financial Sector (Collection of Data) Act 2001, the Insurance Act 1973, the Life Insurance Act 1995, the National Consumer Credit Protection Act 2009, the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993, or an instrument made under any such Act; or

(Note that the term “misconduct” is defined in the Corporations Act to include fraud, negligence, default, breach of trust and breach of duty.)

d. Public interest and Emergency Disclosures

Emergency or public interest disclosures (as defined under the Corporations Act) will also be protected if made to Journalists or Parliamentarians (each as defined in the Corporations Act) in extreme cases (excluding tax matters) in circumstances where at least 90 days have passed since an earlier protected disclosure has been made to ASIC, APRA or another Commonwealth body without reasonable steps having been taken to address the misconduct, or there will be substantial and imminent danger to someone’s health or safety. Note that before such public interest disclosure is made, the discloser must have given written notice to the relevant regulatory body. Such notice must include sufficient information to identify the previous disclosure and must state that the discloser intends to make the public disclosure if appropriate steps are not taken.

Disclosers are advised to contact the Company’s Whistleblower Protection Officer or an independent legal adviser to ensure they understand the criteria for making an emergency or public interest disclosure that qualifies for protection.

e. Personal work-related grievances

Personal work-related grievances (as defined in the Corporations Act) will not be protected to the extent that the information disclosed concerns a personal work-related grievance (within the meaning of the Corporations Act) of the discloser and does not concern a contravention, or an alleged contravention, of the prohibition on victimisation under the Corporations Act that involves detriment caused to the discloser or a threat made to the discloser.

However, a personal work-related grievance will still qualify for protection if:

- i. it includes information about misconduct, or information about misconduct includes or is accompanied by a personal work-related grievance (mixed report);
- ii. the Company has breached employment or other laws punishable by imprisonment for a period of 12 months or more, engaged in conduct that represents a danger to the public, or the disclosure relates to information that suggests misconduct beyond the Discloser's personal circumstances;
- iii. the Discloser suffers from or is threatened with detriment for making the disclosure; or

- c. if the disclosure qualified for protection under the Corporations Act (including public interest and emergency disclosure), the information is not admissible as evidence against the discloser in criminal proceedings or in proceedings for the imposition of a penalty, other than proceedings in respect of the falsity of the information.

Victimisation Prohibited

Anyone who causes or threatens to cause detriment (as defined in the Corporations Act) to a discloser or another person in the belief or suspicion that a report has been made, or may have been made, proposes to, or could be made, may be guilty of an offence and may be liable for damages or subject to a court order. #### Costs of proceedings

A discloser may not need to pay costs of legal proceedings in relation to a report, unless they have acted vexatiously or without reasonable cause and the unreasonable act caused the other party to incur the costs.

A disclosure of the discloser's identity will be authorised if made:

- d. with the express written consent of the discloser; or
- e. by ASIC, APRA, or a member of the AFP to a Commonwealth or State or Territory authority for the purpose of assisting the authority in the performance of its functions or duties.

However, such confidentiality does not apply where the disclosure is not of the identity of the discloser and is reasonably necessary for the purposes of investigating a matter and all reasonable steps have been taken to reduce the risk that the discloser will be identified.

Timing

A discloser will qualify for protection from the time they make their disclosure, regardless of whether, at this time, the discloser or recipient recognises that the disclosure qualifies for protection.

Not Disclosable Matters

Disclosures that are not about Disclosable Matters do not qualify for protection under the Corporations Act.

No immunity from misconduct

Note that the protections do not grant immunity for any misconduct a discloser has engaged in that is revealed in their disclosure.
